It's hard being an astronaut's son. I mean, everybody expects you to be particular or _____ 31 _____, and I'm just an average student, and I'm average, too, when it _____ 32 _____ basketball, football, soccer, and baseball.

I often wonder how my father ever had a son like me. I mean he's so _____ 33 _____ and so good at everything. So I used to dream about doing something spectacular(不平常的) to _____ 34 _____ my father and make him _____ 35 _____ me.

In one class, my teacher 36 a Father's Day essay contest for us and the winners' essays would be read in front of all the parents and students. After school I walked home, 37 my father, who I would write about in my essay.

He sat with me in the 38 when I was a little kid and had a nightmare. He 39 me with a new puppy at my eighth birthday party. He sat and tried to 40 death to me when Grandpa Bob died. To me, he wasn't a world-famous astronaut, just my dad.

I wrote about all these 41 in my essay.

One of our neighbors said, "I 42 you'll win the contest, David. You're the only one in town who could write about being the son of an astronaut." I shrugged.

I hadn't shown anyone the essay, but now I almost hoped I wouldn't win. I didn't want to win just because my father was an astronaut.

I won the second prize. When I finished reading my essay, the 43 applauded. I saw my father blowing his nose. I went back to my seat.

Dad nodded to me, 44 his throat, and put his hand on my shoulder. "Son, this is the 45 proudest moment of my life," he said.

It was the proudest moment of my life, too. Maybe I'll never be a great hero or win a Nobel Prize, but just then, it was 45 just to be my father's son.

A US man has shown off a 14-year-old McDonald's hamburger that looks the same as the day he bought it.

David Whipple, from Utah, had originally planned to keep the burger for two months in order to show friends how its preservatives (防腐剂) would maintain its appearance.

But, after accidentally leaving the product in his pocket for two years, Mr. Whipple decided to keep the burger for even longer to see how long it could continue looking normal.

"It wasn't on purpose," Mr. Whipple told US television show The Doctors.

"I was showing some people how enzymes (生化酶) work and I thought a hamburger would be a good idea. And I used it for a month and then forgot about it.

"It ended up in a paper sack in the original sack with the receipt in my coat tossed in the back of my

Can shyness be completely removed, or at least reduced? Luckily, people can overcome shyness by building self-confidence. Since shyness goes hand in hand with a lack of self-esteem(自尊), it is important for people to accept their weaknesses as well as their strengths.

Each one of us is a unique, worthwhile individual, interested in our own personal ways. The better we understand ourselves, the easier it becomes to live up to our full potential. Let's not allow shyness to prevent our chances of a satisfying life.
